

Hitech Construction Africa Limited Invests in Aqua Africa to Drive Sustainable Water Solutions Across Africa

Hitech Construction Africa Limited, the UK sister company of Hitech, has made a strategic equity investment in Aqua Africa.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, March 5, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hitech Construction Africa Limited, the UK sister company of Hitech, has made a strategic equity investment in Aqua Africa, an expert in developing climate-resilient water projects that deliver social impact, through off-grid solar-powered systems that provides clean drinking water to communities across Africa. SkyKapital advised on the transaction.

Creating a lasting, positive impact on communities

Hitech brings its advanced engineering, large-scale infrastructure experience, and strategic expertise to expand Aqua Africa's reach. Philip Foster, CEO of Aqua Africa, stated, "This partnership will help us deliver critical, sustainable water solutions to areas that need them most."

Dany Abboud, CEO of Hitech Construction Africa Limited, added, "Hitech UK's investment in Aqua Africa is a natural extension of our commitment to advancing infrastructure solutions that create a lasting, positive impact on communities."

This initiative follows Aqua Africa's €76 million agreement with the National Water Points Development Service (SNAPE) in Guinea, supported by UK Export Finance. The agreement aims to provide essential water infrastructure to rural and peri-urban communities. The multi-phase project, scheduled to begin in 2025, will ensure access to clean, climate-resilient water for 1.2 million people, supporting Guinea's Vision 2040 for sustainable development.
