nationwide provider of high-speed Internet services, is now a member of the Telarus supplier program. Telarus, a leading technology services distributor (TSD), provides extensive support for technology advisors, offers an extensive list of suppliers in their marketplace, and enables long-term growth for partner success.

BeyondReach strengthens the Telarus supplier program with a comprehensive range of connectivity solutions designed for even the most challenging locations across the United States. From remote areas to urban centers, BeyondReach provides reliable service where others fall short. As a leader in fixed wireless solutions, BeyondReach specializes in overcoming connectivity challenges that other providers cannot resolve.

"BeyondReach enhances our supplier portfolio with reliable connectivity for remote U.S. areas, as well as urban locations that need better options," said Richard Murray, Chief Commercial Officer at Telarus. "Their expertise in fixed wireless makes them an invaluable supplier for the Telarus advisor community."

"The best partnerships are built on a shared mission, to solve real challenges and drive meaningful impact," said Brandon Tessau, Vice President of BeyondReach. "We believe connectivity shouldn't be limited by geography. No matter where they are, every business deserves access to reliable Internet. Partnering with Telarus allows us to equip Technology Advisors with the solutions they need to bridge the digital divide. Together, we're not just providing connectivity; we're enabling progress, innovation, and opportunity in places others say it can't be done."
