A military veteran, trauma survivor and empowerment coach, Glass launched The Mended Soul Project in 2022 to provide inclusive, trauma-informed recovery support. Her mission was born from personal experience and a deep commitment to helping others transform pain into purpose.

“Healing isn’t one-size-fits-all,” said Glass. “That’s why we create spaces where people from all walks of life can feel safe, seen and supported. This event is about celebration, education and transformation.”

The evening will feature keynote speakers, licensed psychologists, survivor advocates, and a trauma-informed yoga and breathwork session. Guests will hear moving testimonies, including one from a young woman breaking an 11-year silence about childhood abuse. Law enforcement professionals will also offer insights into preventing sex trafficking.

The event culminates in food, music and fellowship—celebrating community, courage and healing.

Founded at the intersection of faith, justice and inclusive healing, The Mended Soul Project, a 501(c)(3) organization, offers trauma recovery programs, coaching and holistic wellness resources for survivors of all backgrounds. Sponsors and donors are invited to support the event and its mission by reaching out through the organization's website or contributing directly through secure platforms.
