

Dexian Named to Newsweek's List of the Most Trustworthy Companies in America 2025

Dexian ranked #5 in the consulting and professional services industry and earned the distinction of being the top staffing and solutions firm on the list.

MCLEAN, VA, UNITED STATES, April 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dexian, a global leader in talent + technology solutions with more than 70 locations and 10,000 employees worldwide, has been named one of Newsweek's Most Trustworthy Companies in America 2025, ranking #5 in the consulting and professional services industry and earning the distinction of being the top staffing and solutions firm on the list. This recognition, presented by Newsweek in collaboration with leading market research firm Statista, highlights companies that have built and maintained strong trust with customers, employees, and investors.

Newsweek, in partnership with Statista, has identified the Most Trustworthy Companies in America across 23 industries. Trust is a critical factor in business success, shaping relationships with clients, employees, and stakeholders. This ranking aims to provide guidance and highlight the companies that have demonstrated trustworthiness in the corporate world.

Maruf Ahmed, Dexian CEO, was recognized again in SIA's Staffing 100 North America list.

"Earning a place on this list is an incredible honor, and it speaks to the loyalty and dedication of our teams, clients, and consultants," said Maruf Ahmed, CEO of Dexian. "Every day, talented professionals depend on us to help them achieve their career goals, and businesses around the world rely on us to provide the solutions that they need to drive positive change. This recognition reinforces our determination to deliver value and reliability in everything we do."

Dexian is a global provider of talent and technology solutions with a focus on innovation and human connection. Dedicated to connecting exceptional talent with top businesses, Dexian partners with organizations across industries to drive success through people and technology. The company's commitment to integrity, excellence, and long-term relationships has positioned it as a leader in the staffing and professional services sector.

The methodology for determining the Most Trustworthy Companies follows a holistic approach that considers three primary pillars of trust: customer trust, investor trust, and employee trust. Companies were selected based on a three-step process. First, all U.S.-headquartered companies with over $500 million in revenue were considered. Second, an independent survey of U.S. residents collected 102,000 company evaluations. Respondents rated companies they were familiar with across the three dimensions of trust. Finally, a Social Listening analysis examined over 304,000 online mentions across various media segments, evaluating sentiment and excluding companies involved in recent scandals or lawsuits relevant to trust. The top-scoring 700 companies were awarded as Most Trustworthy Companies in America 2025, categorized by industry.

"At Dexian, trust is the foundation of everything we do," said Kip Havel, Dexian CMO. "Being 'in the business for good' means a relentless commitment to doing right by our clients, consultants,
