Interiors + sources magazine, operated by Endeavor Business Media, runs the awards to inform interior designers, architects and product specification influencers about commercial projects that stand out across the globe for their beauty, functionality and efficient performance. Expert judges from the interior design community seek out companies, designers and innovators who have contributed to the advancement of interior design through their creative and impactful work.

Leading designer D|13 Group created the innovative sink system, while the XLERATORsync Hand Dryer is manufactured by global industry leader Excel Dryer. The product seamlessly fuses high-
